HISTORY

Garret-Phelps House

History is abundant in Greater Burlington. Learn about a few of the highlights of our historic past. Then be sure to visit each location and experience the past for yourself.

Anne Frank Pen Pal Museum

For the Anne Frank Pen Pal Museum, the story goes back to the Fall of 1939 when a Danville teacher, Miss Birdie Mathews, initiated a pen pal exchange for her class. Ten-year old Juanita Wagner picked a name from a list of pen pals. The girl's name was Anne Frank. Today, Danville, Iowa, a short fifteen-minute drive from Burlington, is one of only two places in the world to view the pen pal letters.

Visiting the Anne Frank Pen Pal Museum, located inside the Danville Station, is a moving experience. The self-guided tour takes guests on a story that starts in the 1920s. Visitors see what was happening in Danville, Iowa, as well as the entire United States in the pre- WWII years. The parallel journey of Anne's family and the events in Europe are also chronicled along this timeline leading up to the Holocaust and World War II. Guests view Anne and Margot's pen pal letters to the Wagner sister in Danville and enjoy the exhibit area dedicated to the girls who wrote these pen pals letters and to their teacher, Miss Birdie Mathews.

Since its inception by a group of artists in 1966, the Art Center of Burlington has become an institutional gem in the heart of Downtown. Today you will find monthly exhibitions, showcasing work from both local and visiting artists, a vast array of art classes offered throughout the year for ages 3 through adult, as well as a beautiful Artists Market with ever changing local and regional artwork for sale.

The Art Center is also the force behind many of Burlington's favorite community events such as Pint by Number- an art infused Downtown bar crawl, Battle of the Brushes and Celebrity Battle of The Brushes- a live painting competition, and the Great River Pottery Throwdown which showcases their booming ceramics program. Every 1st and 3rd Friday of the month is Gallery Lounge. These nights are free and open to the public, and offer live music, a cash bar, and great conversation amongst great art.

Located in the heart of Downtown, The Capitol Performing Arts Center recaptures an era when movies and live entertainment could be enjoyed in beautiful and unique theaters. This Art Deco jewel opened in 1937 attracting people from all around. Boasting air-conditioning, the theater was a popular meeting spot for many years, eventually closing in 1977. In 2012, The Capitol re-opened with an additional annex space that includes dressing rooms for performers. The intimate 367-seat venue hosts independent and classic films, the Snake Alley Festival of Film, as well as local, regional, and national touring artists performing on a 1,500-square foot stage.

The Des Moines County Historical Society Museum contains various unique artifacts and collections. This includes the third largest fossilized collection of crinoids. This collection rivals the Ivy League universities and the Smithsonian.

The Garrett-Phelps House Museum sitting proudly at the top of Snake Alley sheltered three generations of one family for over 100 years. The original portion of the home was built in 1851, and then enlarged in 1870. The three-story home has watched over Burlington through struggles, wars, prosperity, and poverty. During an especially difficult period it housed a hospital, and then a nursing school.

The Crapo Park Log Cabin offers a glimpse of the simpler life of early settlers in Iowa. Located in beautiful Crapo Park in the southeast corner of Burlington, Iowa, the cabin has been open to the public since 1971. Originally built in 1909, the cabin was used as a meeting place for the Hawkeye Natives Association.

THE CAPITOL

Located in the heart of Downtown, the restored Burlington Capitol Theater recaptures an era when movies and live entertainment were enjoyed in beautiful and unique theaters around the country. The Capitol Theater strives to enshrine the community's history while providing diverse programming for every audience.

Originally built in 1937, this Art Deco jewel re-opened in 2012. The intimate 367-seat venue, along with its reception and gallery annex, hosts independent and classic films as well as local, regional, and national touring artists performing on a 1,500-square-foot Stage.

COMING SOON

The Capitol is now preparing to renovate the 2nd Floor of the Theater's Annex. This project will provide much-needed space for youth programming, college classes, and a 120-seat black box theater. The project will also upgrade the existing spaces with sound improvements, and energy efficient lighting.

THE CAPITOL 3 PILLARS

The mission of The Capitol is three pillars - Education, Entertainment, and Social Connectivity. Through these three pillars, The Capitol works to provide theatergoers and the community with an amazing experience.

EDUCATION

Exposure to theater and music is critical to a well-rounded education and social emotional intelligence. While children enjoy performing simply for the fun of spending time with friends and participating in creative play, the arts have an impact that lasts much longer than the performance.

The Capitol has also partnered with Southeastern Community College to give college students access to a working theater. While giving students the opportunity for real life experience, the community gains new shows and entertainment options.

ENTERTAINMENT

Every year The Capitol offers a wide variety of entertainment for the community. From live music, to dance recitals, to movies, and plays, there is always something going on at The Capitol. Their team is always working to bring new and exciting events to the area. Coming soon, The Capitol is looking to start showing anime and first run films. Stay tuned to the website for updates.

SOCIAL CONNECTIVITY

The Capitol strives to be a place where people of all ages and backgrounds can connect with loved ones, make unexpected friends, and share in the joy of film and live performance. Stay tuned for more information about the upcoming Listening Lounge, a place for people to gather, listen to music, and enjoy each other's company.

GOLF

When it's time to relax and hit the links, Greater Burlington has three great golf courses for you to tee off. From formidable pin locations to breathtaking views, each course offers a distinctive design certain to challenge any golfer.

Image: Spirit Hollow

The Burlington Golf Club is the oldest incorporated club West of the Mississippi River. The club has been in continuous operation since June of 1899. The members like to say that there is a postcard on each hole. This picturesque private club does allow some outside play if arrangements are made in advance. The facility also has a banquet room, top-rate dining room and a pool in addition to golf and tennis.

Flint Hills Municipal Golf Course, located just north of Burlington, is one of the finest municipal courses in Iowa. The 6,246 yard, par 71 course has watered fairways and varied topography throughout the entire course. Flint Hills is the perfect golfing experience offering pristine playing conditions and a fully stocked pro-shop. They have something for every level of golfer.

Spirit Hollow is where true golfers play. From the championship golf course right through to its comfortable accommodations, casual dining and the Shankopotamus Golf Academy powered by Toptracer Range, the team at Spirit Hollow honors the history and traditions of the game and nurtures the spirit of those who play.

Spirit Hollow features a layout that intrigues the imagination and challenges the competitive spirit of the player. The course is always in good shape and has been ranked as the #1 Best Course You Can Play in Iowa by Golfweek Magazine five years running.

When you're done on the course, the action moves to the Toptracer Range at the Shankopotamus Golf Academy. You can't play golf all night, but you can play the greats, like the Old Course, Pebble Beach, Spyglass and more until the lights go off.

Lambo's is where Chef Scott serves a variety of casual food that will please any palate amid a sports bar setting featuring 40+ big-screen TVs and a video wall.

And when it comes time to rest your weary head, you have the choice of a Lodge room that accommodates two guests or their spacious, home-away-from-home Cabins which accommodates up to eight guests.

Whether you want to come stay, or simply play, Spirit Hollow offers all the amenities you want with the hospitality you deserve.

OUTDOOR RECREATION

Crapo Park Scenic Overlook

Flint River Trail

Greater Burlington is the Great Outdoors.

Big Hollow Lake

Explore the shores of the Mississippi, bike through the forests and prairies of America's heartland, or paddle your cares away on lake waterways – all in Greater Burlington. No matter how you adventure, you'll find recreational opportunities throughout the year. Here are just a few ways you can answer the call of nature.

Spring & Summer

Slip on your running shoes and go for a run or hike. With more than 35 miles of trails throughout Greater Burlington, there's a trail for every mood. Want a quiet nature hike? Check out Hunt Woods or Starr's Cave Park and Preserve. Need to squeeze in a quick run to get your steps in? Hit the trails at Crapo or Dankwardt Parks. Want a bigger endurance challenge? The hilly trails at Big Hollow or Lake Geode will get your heart pumping and legs burning. Take your canoe or kayak and paddle through the canopy of flooded trees at Big Hollow Lake or the open waters of Lake Geode. Explore Mississippi backwaters at the 4th Pumping Station or float the slow-moving Skunk River.

On two wheels? Start pedaling and see where the wind takes you. Take a leisurely ride on segments of the Flint River Trail or test your singletrack skills at North Gorge. Bikes are also welcome on the trails at Big Hollow.

Grab a friend for a round of disc golf. Play 18 holes on the expansive course spread over Dankwardt Park on the south side of Burlington. With the other park amenities on site, it's easy to spend the entire day there.

Starr's Cave

Swan Lake Lodge

Big Hollow Lake

Starr's Cave

Big Hollow Lake

Find monster bass and crappie at Big Hollow. Take the kids bluegill fishing at Lake Geode or Lake Starker in Crapo Park. The Mighty Mississippi is a catfish mecca. No boat? No problem. Shore fish from any of the county river accesses. Put on your swimsuit and dive right in! Hit the beaches at Lake Geode and Big Hollow or the pools at Dankwardt Park and West Burlington. For a full waterpark experience, check out Huck's Harbor, part of the Fun City complex.

Fall & Winter

With its diversity of landscapes, Greater Burlington offers some amazing fall color views. Take in landscape scenes from the Starr's Cave Overlook or at Mosquito Park overlooking the River. Or immerse yourself in fall beauty on the trails at Starr's Cave Park and Preserve, Crapo Park, Big Hollow, and Lake Geode.

While we don't have the slopes, you can get your winter workout in by cross-country skiing the Flint River Trail or the trails at Starr's Cave Park and Preserve, Big Hollow, or Lake Geode. Or don your skates and glide the ice at Lake Geode and Big Hollow.

Locals have long flocked to Perkins Park following a fresh snowfall for family sledding time. It's no Olympic-level ski slope, but the wide, mowed slopes there leave ample room for sledders of all skill levels. And the hike back up won't kill your quads (at least not the first few times, anyway!)

In the winter, the Mississippi River goes to the birds! You can see some of the largest populations of eagles in the coldest months along the river in the Greater Burlington area. For the biggest eagle numbers, look for open pockets of water near Lock & Dam 18 or south of the power plant on Sullivan Slough Road.

Fishing isn't just for the summer months. Bundle up and go ice fishing. The monster crappie at Big Hollow and bluegill at Lake Geode can be found through the ice too. But we're too far south to trust the ice on the Mississippi so stick to the shores in the cold months.

Whether you hunt with binoculars, a camera, or for table fare, Greater Burlington offers many natural areas with abundant wildlife. Explore or hunt Mississippi bottomlands at Blackhawk Bottoms or Huron Flats. Venture into the hardwoods of Hickory Bend or Big Hollow. Or just view your favorite species at Starr's Cave Park and Preserve or Lake Geode (hunting not allowed at either park).

SEASONS

Come see for yourself why visitors return to Greater Burlington year after year to explore all the wonders of the most magical of seasons!

Snake Alley Criterium

SPRING

In Greater Burlington, March doesn't come in like a lion - it comes in like a bull!

Burlington SnowBull, in spite of its wintry name, is the first big event of spring, and Iowa's only three-day, indoor bull-riding event.

April showers may bring flowers, but drier weather is preferred for the start of the racing season at West Burlington's 34 Raceway. The 3/8-mile, semi-banked clay oval track has hosted weekly racing and prestigious national events.

May is the month to see Burlington's most famous landmark, Snake Alley, at its colorful best, as not only flowers, but flowering trees - crabapple, redbud, dogwood and tulip - burst forth in a riot of color that has inspired photographers and painters for decades.

The end of May brings the best weather of spring, with warming days and plenty of sunshine. This is perfect weather for the Snake Alley Criterium.

Come celebrate spring with us!

SUMMER

Summertime makes a big splash in Greater Burlington. You'll find more ways to enjoy our community than there are hours in the long, lazy summer days.

The star of summer's show is the Mighty Mississippi. From boating to beaches, river days are the best days!

The Burlington Riverfront Entertainment Summer Concert Series brings big-name entertainers, along with some of the region's best talent, to the riverfront all summer long - and the concerts are free and open to the public.

The city of West Burlington celebrates the Fourth in a very big way, and visitors return to Greater Burlington year after year for this day-long celebration.

Finally, the gorgeous city and county parks put on a bountiful show this time of year with hiking and biking trails, lakes and ponds ready to be explored.

Whatever your pleasure, we'll help you savor the very best of summer in Greater Burlington!

FALL

Locals know there's no better time to be in Greater Burlington than autumn.

Hike the bluffs of Starr's Cave Park and Preserve on the city's northern border, where you can gaze with a bird's eye view of the 184-acre park.

Sports fans will find a host of fall events happening at Burlington Regional RecPlex, from softball tourneys to the famed Monster Match soccer tournament. And 34 Raceway hosts the annual Fall Haul, wrapping up the racing season with a roar.

October brings a frightful frenzy of fun to Greater Burlington with events like the Haunted Auditorium - which boasts "Four floors of terror!" Pair that with a late-night fright flick at the Capitol Theater, where they routinely screen a great lineup of classic horror flicks in the weeks leading up to the Big Night.

From sightseeing to frightfully fun events, come see how many ways you can find to fall in love with Greater Burlington!

WINTER

The snowy season brings its own special magic to the hills and valleys of Greater Burlington.

For those who take their chills and thrills seriously, outdoor activities abound. Wax up your skis for a cross-country adventure at Starr's Cave Park. Big Hollow, Lake Geode, and the Mississippi are great spots to ice fish that can yield delicious catch.

The holiday season in Greater Burlington is truly a magical time, with annual events like Living Windows, a Downtown tradition geared toward families with younger children.

The Lighted Holiday Parade on Jefferson Street ushers in the holiday season as the Jolly Old Elf himself makes his appearance. The parade winds up at the Riverfront, where the Big Tree in front of Memorial Auditorium is lighted for the season.

Do you want to see some great performers and fun entertainment, conveniently nestled close to home? Take the short drive to The Legacy Theater in Carthage, Illinois.

Performers from across the country bring a variety of family-friendly shows from March to December, including Grammy winning entertainers, dance troupes, up and coming stars, brilliant tribute shows from all eras, and the annual Christmas show.

"The Legacy Theater is proudly celebrating its seventh year in Carthage, offering quality, live entertainment and educational programming for the tri-state area," said Doug Groth, president of the Legacy Theater Foundation board.

"In just this past year, we have had stars like The Texas Tenors and Riders in the Sky, extremely popular tributes to The Beatles, Kenny Rogers and Neil Diamond, and a jazz band from Mulheim, Germany, as part of our schedule."

WHO WE ARE

"To Enrich, Educate, Inspire and Entertain" is the mission of The Legacy Theater. It enriches the quality of life to those who live in this rural community. Beyond that, visitors have come to the theater from over 30 states, bringing economic benefits to the region.

Regular educational programming for children and adults is part of the Legacy's mission.

"Some performers offer special shows for students," said Amy Graham, chairman of the theater's performance recruitment committee. "What a thrill it is to fill these seats with young people and introduce them to the joy of the arts and live entertainment."

Dance studios, piano teachers and local schools use the theater for their performances. The venue is available to rent for workshops, meetings and other events.

The theater is operated almost exclusively by volunteers who make up the Legacy Theater Foundation board and its committees.

The theater has seating for 525 visitors. This includes 80 seats in the balcony, which is equipped with space for setting up pre-show catered events.

OUR HISTORY

The Legacy Theater has a long history as part of two prominent educational institutions that began in Carthage: Carthage College -- 1870-1964, and Robert Morris College -- 1965-1989. The building that is now The Legacy Theater was built in 1953. It was used by both colleges for their music and drama departments, for graduations, and large meetings.

After 1989, the college campus was not in use for many years. In 2007, Prairieland Investment Group purchased the campus, restoring and using some buildings, and donated the auditorium to Carl Sandburg College which had a campus in Carthage. CSC made major renovations to the theater building for campus and community use.

In 2016, CSC sold the theater to the City of Carthage. That same year, The Legacy Theater Foundation was formed and began operating the theater.

The theater is at 1160 Buchanan in Carthage. The box office is open Monday to Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Call 217-357-9479. See The Legacy Theater on Facebook or go to www.thelegacytheater.com.

STAY- CATION

GREATER BURLINGTON, IA

Soaring gas prices and busy schedules can make summer travel challenging, without question. The good news is that you don't have to go far for an enjoyable experience.

Have you ever considered being a tourist in your own backyard?

A “stay-cation” can allow families to enjoy art, culture, music, sports, outdoor recreation and much more without feeling the pinch at the gas pump and there's never been a better time to explore all that Greater Burlington has to offer. The old narrative “there's nothing to do here” has disappeared like a bad act at a comedy club. Whether you're an empty nester, single, a family with younger children or just looking for a great night out with friends, rediscovering the place you call home can be quite the adventure!

The important thing is to approach the experience with fresh eyes. If you're new to the area, or if you haven't explored in a while, consider asking a friend or relative to join in the fun. Have your “host” show you around as if you were a tourist, sharing favorite places that make the area special to them. Traveling through the community differently than you usually do can offer new insights and experiences.

Before you jump in the car or decide to be a “stay-cation” trendsetter yourself, be sure to take your time and plan an itinerary. The Port of Burlington Welcome Center is a great place to start. Friendly staff and volunteers can offer suggestions tailored to your interests. You may see local points of interest like Snake Alley and Crapo Park every day, but don't be afraid to embrace the experience by taking photos of yourself, your friends and family enjoying our historic landmarks.

How much do you really know about your community's history? The Heritage Center Museum, Garrett-Phelps House and Hawkeye Log Cabin Museum offer living, evolving windows into our past. Are you an art lover? The gallery shows at the Art Center of Burlington change monthly and they are always free and open to the public. Catch a great show at the beautifully restored Capitol Theater, check out that new restaurant you've been meaning to try, or spend an afternoon shopping Downtown Burlington (it really will take an afternoon). From antiques to boutiques, old doors are opening into new enterprises in our historic Downtown every day.

Nature lovers can't get enough of Des Moines County's many parks and attractions. From rustic settings like Hunt Woods or Luckenbill Woods, fun and educational events at Starr's Cave Nature Center to the many recreational opportunities at Big Hollow Creek Recreation Area, Mother Nature is on display in all her glory. You can even "see the stars" here - have you ever visited the Witte Observatory at Big Hollow?

If resort living is more your style, a weekend at FunCity Resort might be just the ticket. Spoil yourself with a luxurious stay at Catfish Bend Inn & Spa, watch for great shows and events at Catfish Bend Convention & Event Center. Try your luck at Catfish Bend Casino or spend a day playing at Huck's Harbor outdoor water park, Zoom indoor speedway with Formula One-style electric go-carts, KingPins bowling alley and LazerTown laser tag arena. These are just a few of the amazing amenities to be enjoyed at FunCity Resort.

Don't forget to check the events calendar at GreaterBurlington.com for upcoming sports and entertainment. Community Field has a rich baseball history, and a Burlington Bees game offers even more excitement now that the Bees are part of the collegiate Prospect League. You'll see the rising stars of baseball and hear the authentic crack of a wood bat at these hotly contested games. If you're into speed you can't beat the excitement of fast, dirt-track racing at 34 Raceway, plus awesome displays of speed and power like Sprint Invaders included on the schedule.

Memorial Auditorium and the Capitol Theater host Burlington's Civic Music programs, the Southeast Iowa Symphony Orchestra, unique hometown events like the Snake Alley Film Festival and the Old Couch Music Fest. The Burlington Municipal Band performs free concerts at Crapo Park's bandshell every Sunday through the summer. Downtown's A Very Vintage Market in July has grown into one of the area's most anticipated summer events. Bookmark the event calendar at GreaterBurlington.com to make sure you are not missing a thing!

Whatever you're planning this summer, leave your troubles behind (and a bit more of your bank account in place) and enjoy all that Greater Burlington has to offer...right here in your own backyard.

NEW RESIDENTS

Greater Burlington encompasses the dynamic communities of Des Moines County in Southeast Iowa. These communities include Burlington, West Burlington, Mediapolis, Danville, and Middletown. You'll find the best of both worlds with the historic small business neighborhoods and all the amenities of a larger community.

Greater Burlington is a Midwest community rich in natural beauty with a wealth of opportunity for you and your family. Greater Burlington is blessed to be on the banks of the Mississippi River surrounded by fertile plains and lush wooded areas. As the first territorial capital of Iowa, Burlington has a rich history and continues to be relevant in the economy and culture of Southeast Iowa.

The region offers the diversity and beauty of four seasons, each with its own splendor and opportunities. Each spring brings renewal as plant life emerges in every color and description. In the fall the area's hardwood trees burst with color and the community's parks become a festival of "art."

River towns have a charm and character all of their own and Greater Burlington is no exception. Outdoor music festivals, A Very Vintage Market, Snake Alley Criterium, Fourth of July Celebration, and the Snake Alley Art Fair are all ways the community celebrates life on the river.

Added to the natural beauty is wonderful architecture found in 19th Century homes, unique Downtown buildings and spectacular steepled churches. The community has renewed its commitment to preserve and highlight these structures.

The community is a place where people smile and wave, a place where you know your neighbor and where family is paramount. Greater Burlington continues to invest in the things that matter – education, arts, culture, and recreation. Interests including music, dining, drama, art, golf, hiking, cycling and more are appreciated for the value they add to the fabric of everyday life.

This Community Guide is intended to give you a glimpse of what is available in Greater Burlington. Even more information is available online at GreaterBurlington.com. Come visit our community. Come join us as residents.

"Jaybird" was my mother's nickname. For me, the Jaybird brand is a reminder that we are taking care of someone's mother or father. To be sure, it is a tremendous responsibility and a privilege, and it is surely one our entire organization takes seriously. The company's namesake serves as a reminder of those values that my mother worked so hard to instill in me.

First, good things come from hard work, modesty, and discipline.

Second, integrity is the engine that drives all good outcomes.

Finally, and perhaps most importantly, we must treat everyone with respect. Respect is fundamental to our Red Carpet philosophy, which is inherent in all we do."

Greater Burlington is an attractive place to put down roots

Why choose Greater Burlington, Iowa?

The simple answer is: It's just better here. It's a better place to grow a business or grow a family.

Located in the southeast corner of Iowa, Greater Burlington is the economic center for a region comprised of Burlington, West Burlington, Danville, Mediapolis and Middletown.

The Greater Burlington area serves as regional hub for education, employment, health care, recreation and shopping for 90,000-plus residents.

"Greater Burlington is also home to Fortune 500 companies such as Silgan Containers, which recently built the most advanced can manufacturing facility in the world and produces

6 million food-grade cans every day to feed America," says Della Schmidt, president/CEO of the Greater Burlington Partnership.

"In addition, Winegard Company is an industry leader in satellite and connectivity technology to keep the world connected no matter where, and CNH Industrial is a world leader in construction and agriculture equipment manufacturing. Also,

Greater Burlington is home to a 19,000-acre Iowa Army Ammunition Plant that keeps our war fighters supplied with the best munitions in the world."

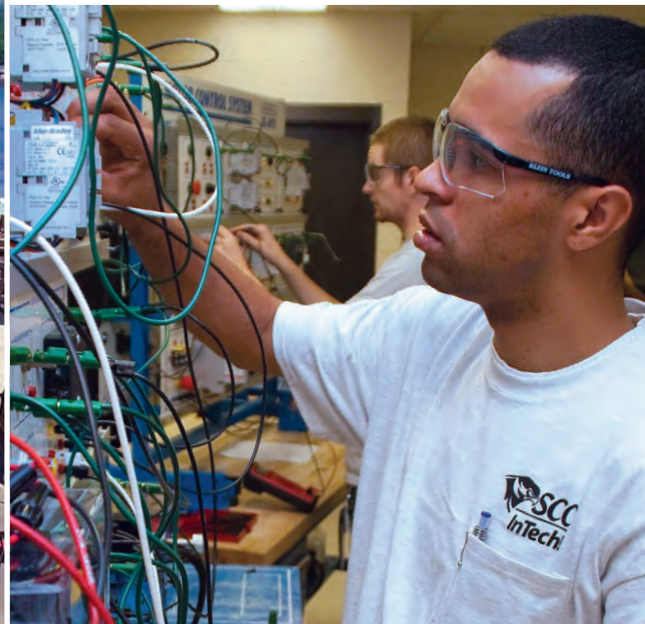

Schmidt says a big reason why the community can attract Fortune 500 businesses and government-approved contractors is because companies need people, and people can afford to live here comfortably.

"Greater Burlington enjoys a cost of living that is 18% below the national average," Schmidt says. "That includes goods and services priced at 12% below the U.S. average, and housing costs

For business and industry, the region is also all about access, according to Jeremy Hess, Greater Burlington Partnership director of economic development.

"Greater Burlington is at the center of four-lane highways in every direction and where the Mississippi River and the Burlington Northern Santa Fe mainline intersect," Hess explains. "With barge, rail and major highway access, companies have the ability to reach 40 million customers within 300 miles or 4.5 hours of drive time, and 80 million people within 8 hours."

Hess adds that for businesses looking to relocate, a convenient and spacious Flint Ridge Business Park has ready-to-develop certified sites that straddle both Burlington and West Burlington. Corporate and local air travelers will find commercial service to Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Louis from Southeast Iowa Regional Airport.

"Education and training are also keys to Greater Burlington's success," Hess adds. "The region is home to Southeastern Community College, which works with employers to develop custom training curriculums to accommodate workers in every sector, including advanced manufacturing. And for four-year university students, Iowa Wesleyan University is just a 30-minute drive away."
